

The music of Arshenic is inspired by such trends as art rock, alternative metal, progressive rock, goth metal, melodic metal and dark rock.

The band was formed in 2006 in Gdańsk (Poland). In 2007, Arshenic recorded the material for first EP. At that time, the group played numerous concerts mostly around Poland, also on the International Young Talent Concert (Kappeln - Germany).

In 2008, the band recorded another promotional album "Lilie" promoting it during concerts around Poland and concerts with Polish gothic bands Closterkeller (during Abrakadabra Gothic Tour) and Artrosis (Gothic Diamonds Tour). November 2009, the group recorded the first full-length album.

In 2011 performance in the Must Be The Music tv show with metal cover of Lady Gaga Paparazzi. Next a gig in Wieczór Industrialny (Industrial Night Fest) in Gdansk. The same year, song "Odejdziesz" was released on the Sampler 05 compilation by label Halotan Records.

In 2012-2014, the band's activities were suspended. In January 2015, Arshenic came back with new bass player and released re-edition of the album recorded in 2009, extended with additional songs. Currently, the album with the unchanged title "Arshenic" has 15 mostly Polish lyrics song and few in english: "Gone", "The same words", "Paparazzi cover". In April 2016, the band released a new EP album entitled "ERASED" containing three songs "Grzyby", "Erased" and "Breakin".

In February 2017, the band released the single "Monster" announcing the band's second full-length album. As part of the animal support activities, the band recorded a music video for the song in the animal shelter.
